Dear brothers, cursillistas of the world: in principle, receive a fraternal greeting, and with joy, as Pope Francis has said: "You have to live with joy the little things in everyday life (...) Do not deprive yourself of having a good time day".

I am pleased to continue talking with you through this medium and share the news, developments and news that are happening in the MCC and that through this service in the OMCC I have the opportunity and privilege to communicate.

Mons. Faustino Armendáriz Jiménez

Elected Archbishop of Durango and Ecclesiastical Advisor of OMCC

I greet the Cursillistas of the world, who with real dedication continue to work for the good of the Movement. I encourage you to continue.

In my message I share the words spoken by Pope Francis, at the closing of the Special Assembly of the Synod of Bishops for the Amazon, he warned of the danger of the "religion of self." This was stated by the Pope during the Mass he presided at the Basilica of St. Peter on Sunday, October 27. Let us make our words so that the trainees, for the Catholics of the world and for those who are not yet, are light for us.

These are times to consolidate progress on the right path and to reach environments that do not yet know Christ. It is our time and it is our opportunity to serve the Church through our Apostolate.

We entrust ourselves to Christ and his Blessed Mother because the projects and actions that drive our actions are always for the good of the MCC, in communion with the Church, its teaching, the OMCC Statute and Fundamental Ideas 3, which are the lights that guide our path to be faithful to our essence, purpose, charisma and method.

May that illusion with which we live our Christianity workshop continue in our mind and in the heart set on the Lord.

Let us continue to pray for our work, for our unity and communion with the Church and with the trainees of the World.

NEWS

Cursillo de Cursillos - Montevideo, Uruguay

Message to the participants of the Cursillo de Cursillos held in Montevideo: I am very pleased to be able to address each of you, who are gathered during these days in the city of Montevideo, capital of the admired and beloved sister country of Uruguay, to live and celebrate this Cursillo de Cursillo "in the light of IF3", which summons the leaders of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay and the host Uruguay, with the healthy intention of knowing, studying, assimilating and putting into practice in the different stages of the methodology and in the proper orientations in the actions of the Movement of the Cursillos de Cristiandad Movement in this region. of Latinamerica.

Both Mons. Faustino Armendáriz Jiménez, our Ecclesiastical Advisor and a servant, we regret not being with you. The budgetary restrictions that are so common in our beloved MCC make it impossible at this time to encourage and greet you personally as I would have liked to; however, I do not want to take advantage of the occasion to encourage them to be enlightened in a docile way in the first place: by the Word of God who knows everything and scrutinizes it, so that it is the optics of the Gospel that let you know the reality of the Movement in each of its localities of origin.

It is appropriate to remind you that with the definitive approval of the OMCC Statute and the book of Fundamental Ideas 3rd. Edition by the Lay Ministry of the Holy See in 2014, those stages in which for 10 long years we were working to consult and discuss proposals for modification to these documents that today serve as a common frame of reference to all Diocesan and National Secretariats anywhere in the world.

The MCC is an apostolic movement, inspired by God with the purpose of helping many to make their history a salvation story. Whatever the other objective, however noble it may be, betrays the identity of the Charism and therefore the will of God.

Today's gospel makes us an energetic call to fulfill our duty as leaders responsible for building unity and communion within this movement of Christian renewal; it is no accident that at this precise moment his Word challenges each of us by our name, with singular insistence: "But he, knowing his intentions, told them: Every kingdom divided against itself is ravaged and a house collapses on the other. If, then, Satan is also divided against himself, how will his kingdom subsist? .."(Lk 11, 17-18)

Dear Presidents, brothers and members of the various diocesan secretariats present here, it is time to build paths of unity. Let's recover the identity of the Cursillo de Cristiandad Movement! "For all to be one. As you, O Father, are in me and I in you, may they also be in us, so that the world may believe that you sent me" Jn, 17.21.

The members of this OMCC Executive Committee will be begging our Father God, so that there are many
The spiritual fruits of this encounter, likewise, we also ask you to grant them the joy, harmony and peace of the Risen Christ in your hearts.

Congratulations to all for this workshop. I'm sorry I can't be with you. I join your efforts of reflection, communion and dialogue. In addition to prayer. God bless Uruguay and the entire southern cone. God bless the MCC throughout LA.

Cheer up. With my blessing and prayer
Mons. Faustino Armendáriz, Elected Archbishop of Durango

THE SECOND REGULAR MEETING OMCC
26-29 SEPTEMBER 2019
CHICAGO, IL.

Inaugural Ceremony

In the climate of unity and group meeting, the activities scheduled for the Second Meeting of the World Organization of Christianity Courses of OMCC began. From before and on the first day, we put ourselves in the hands of our Father God, beginning with community prayer.

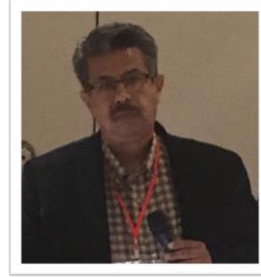

Cardinal Kevin Farrel, Prefect Dicastery for the Laity, Family and Life

The Message of Cardinal Kevin Farrel, Prefect of the Dicastery for the Laity, Family and Life, sent to the OMCC on the occasion of the Second Ordinary Meeting, emphasizes two fundamental aspects: the responsibility of keeping alive the charism that the Holy Spirit raised to the Church, and the accompaniment in the Christian life of those whom the Lord has entrusted to us; and second, it invites us to be a missionary Church, and points out that it is more difficult to widen than to stay to organize what has been done.

In his letter, Cardinal Farrel mentions his Holiness Pope Francis, who invites us to share the beauty and joy of the Gospel, taking him to where he is not present. And reiterates: "do not lose the apostolic and missionary horizon that should encourage the Cursillos de Cristiandad".

Our gratitude to Cardinal Farrel for his message of hope and confidence for Christianity courses as a means to fulfill the mission entrusted by the Church.

Reflection and spirituality

During the Meeting, Mons. Armendáriz begins this space of spirituality and reflection with the Lectio Divina: Christian happiness, an objective to promote and to reach in the OMCC (Mt 5, 1-12) and Lectio Divina: The OMCC mission: Carry the Word to all the peripheries! (Mt 4, 12-23)

In both participations before beginning the day's activities, they were an opportunity to listen carefully to the word of God and let God reach our hearts.

Lectio Divina: The OMCC mission: Bring the Word to all the peripheries! (Mt 4, 12-23):

In his message, Mons. Armendáriz leaves us the following words: We, cursillistas of today, have the joy of proclaiming and witnessing our faith, because there was that first announcement, because there were those humble and brave men who responded generously to the call of Jesus. On the shores of the lake, in an unthinkable land, the first community of disciples of Christ was born. May the awareness of these beginnings arouse in us the desire to bring the word, love and tenderness of Jesus to every context, even the most difficult and resilient. Bring the Word to all the peripheries! All spaces of human living are ground to which to throw the seeds of the Gospel, so that it may bear fruits of salvation.

And he concludes: Having heard: What moves me as a member of the OMCC to know and realize that this is the mission and method of Jesus?

Lectio Divina: Christian happiness an objective to promote and achieve in the OMCC (Mt 5, 1-12):

For fidelity to the Master. Given the forcefulness of Jesus' requests, it is our duty to accept and receive with sincere openness, that is, without comment, without elucubrations and excuses that take away their strength. The Lord made it clear to us that holiness cannot be understood or lived apart from these demands of his, because mercy is "the beating heart of the Gospel."

The objective of the OMCC will have to be illuminated with the light of this word in order to assume more and more sine glossa the charism that, as indicated by Fundamental Ideas 3: "The Cursillo charism is a gift that the Holy Spirit spills in his Church, which It forms a mentality and promotes an ecclesial movement, which, through a kerigmatic method of its own, enables the experience and coexistence of the fundamental Christian, helps to discover and realize one's personal vocation and promotes groups of Christians who ferment the gospel environments, through of friendship. "

And he concludes: What do I commit to? What moves me as a member of the OMCC to know and realize that Christian happiness is an objective to promote and achieve in the OMCC?

During this day, the Archbishop Mons Faustino Armendáriz J. Spiritual Adviser of the OMCC and Juan Adolfo Moguel Ortiz, President OMCC, met with the Cardinal of Chicago, Blase J. Cupich to discuss the MCC.
